THE PACKER COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

Brooklyn

New York

A SCHOOL or college yearbook is in a class by itself. It is not sought for in any lending library. It would command a small fraction of its cost at a newsstand. A person without association with the institution from which it originates would give it only a passing inspection. And yet it has great worth. For the one who owns it, it is almost priceless when it is published; it adds value as it adds years, changing from a mere record to a poignant reminder, a reminder of pleasant happenings and friends who were fun, when these happenings and friends have become vague and dream-like. It is more than a book; it is a gathering of fellow students and an avenue of associations and a pattern of a way of life.

I know this Pelican of 1949-1950 is a good one and that it will be cherished by each owner. I am pleased to be the spokesman of all Packer in congratulating the student staff and faculty advisers upon the excellence of their work and in thanking them for their many long hours of effective toil. All of us are indebted to them and we join in saying: "It's a fine job. We thank you."

DEDICATION

IT is with regret that we find, Miss Chapin, that you are to leave us this June after twenty years here at Packer. As a token of our high esteem and deep appreciation we dedicate this year's Pelican to you.

Your friendly interest and desire to help and guide us will be missed by all. You have the rare quality so important in a teacher of bringing out the best in a student, by having a word of encouragement wherever it is needed.

The faculty and students join in wishing you, Miss Chapin, happiness and good luck in all your plans and undertakings in the future, and we hope to be included in your happy memories of Packer.

DEAR DIARY

June, 2000

Dear Diary,

Today, while I was rummaging through the attic, I found something that took me back fifty years. It was the diary I kept during my Senior year at Packer. It brought back memories that I had long forgotten. How many pleasant memories that diary of the Class of '50.

I've been rereading the diary and have experienced many a smile and many a pang in recalling the daily episodes. For instance there is the entry of September 21, 1949, the first day of our Senior year.

"Gee, it was good to see all the kids again. We had a lot to talk about. The summer went so fast and everybody is so tan. Tomorrow we get our caps and gowns. Then, we'll feel like Seniors."

How time flew after we got into the routine of things. Here's an entry that's typical of our class. It's the one for October 24.

"We certainly make it hard for Ruth and Evelyn. I don't know what they would do without that bell. We were almost late for Chapel this morning. They ran around telling us, 'The music's begun. Hurry up and get on line.'"

"After Chapel there were the usual announcements. Elfriede asked us to pay our class dues, and Jean Dedrick asked us to pay for our Pelicans. Betsy wanted suggestions for a forum topic. We finally decided on 'Should Religion Be Taught in Public Schools?' After announcements were over, there was the usual dash for the last minute cigarette before the ten o'clock class.

"This afternoon the Workshop had a Gay Nineties Revue. Six of us did a dance routine to By the Sea. The costumes included shower caps and gym suits. Marjorie King sang Hello, My Baby, and Nancy Balchunas did I'm Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage. One part that was very good was the take off on a silent movie. The Senior specialty, the Flora Dora Baby, was also done. The revue was a big success. Teddie deserved a lot of credit for the work she put into it."

Here's one entry that is remembered by many in our class. It is the one for the 21st of November.

"There certainly was excitement in school today. Last weekend six of us went away for big college weekends. Teddie went up to the Syracuse-Colgate weekend. Ruth went to Cornell. Wilma and Cathleen both went to Boston, Wilma to M. I. T. and Cathleen to Tufts. Mary and I went up to the Yale-Harvard game. Throughout the day all I heard were tales of the weekend's happenings."

Then, there was our Senior Play, The Cherry Orchard. How we worked on that. Here's the entry for Dec. 1, the day before the play was given.

"At lunch today we made up a song about the play. We changed the words of I'll be With You at Apple Blossom Time to I'll be With You in Cherry Orchard Time. Then we went around the lunchrooms and sang it. I think we're going to sing it in Chapel tomorrow. Marilyn Sussel is very good as the lead, and they say Solveig is going to have for her pet in it the dog that played with The Cherry Orchard on Broadway."

How we all worried about that play, but it finally went off very well. I remember Ruth's nephew didn't recognize her, and he thought Joan Wells was Santa Claus, because of her long beard.

The next entry that stands out is the one for March 13. "Today in Chapel 'Aschenbach and Hall' played duets on the piano. Included, of course, was Don't Blame Me, much to the amusement of our class. I guess that will be the only time harmonizing is allowed in Chapel.

"This afternoon the Seniors inhabited the Social Room, as usual. Dottie, Lois Valentine, Janet, and Joan were playing bridge. Janet seemed to be quite confused by Joan's artificial club. How often the phrase, 'Joan, what'll I do with this hand?' can be heard.

"To add to the confusion June was teaching Mickey, Louise, Edna, and Barbara Frischman to do the Charleston, and Lupe was teaching Lois Hopper to do the Hula Hula.

"Marjorie King and Ginny Scileppi left to go to Jehovah's Witnesses for their Sociology survey, and word came that the Social Room is to be redecorated."

I wonder how long it looked neat after that. Here's another entry for the same week. It's for St. Patrick's Day.

"Today we held a party. It started off in the Assembly Room with entertainment. Louise and Solveig each played the piano, and Marjorie King, Marjorie Kautz, and Nancy Balchunas sang. After this we went to the Social Room, and Teddie and Evelyn gave out little gifts to express each person's outstanding characteristic."

Looking back on it, our class really got along very well. Lunchtime was another period which was full of activity. My entry for the March 21 shows a typical lunch period.

"Today was one of those days in the lunch room when everybody was singing. I had to eat my lunch in a hurry because I had some work to do, and Frances Poggi was also hurrying so she could practice some vaults. Thank heavens we have her for the Meet.

"When I got upstairs, the radio was going, Beryl was teaching Nancy and Betty Coelho knitting, Solveig and Dagmar were having a tête à tête on the sofa, probably doing their Math homework."

I kept this diary throughout most of the year, but the entry of March 21 is the last I can find. Although I have no written record of the remaining days at Packer I still have memories of May Day and all the events of graduation, which are so symbolic of Packer. Our graduation was the climax of all we had worked for, or even joked about; it was a triumph tempered by the more important realization that we are not "the be-all and the end-all here."

Although there were many times when we were discouraged, the memories we hold are all happy ones, which on our recalling them provide us with pleasant moments.

MEMORIES

WHEN most Fourth Academic classes are ready to leave Packer, they make wills containing legacies to the school, or they speculate in prophecies about the futures of their classmates, but we decided that we preferred to collect all the memories of our years at Packer, moments we would never want to forget, memories that we will keep with us always to look back on with a smile, a chuckle, or just a good feeling.

Some of our strongest memories are connected with the chapel: the sun streaming through the beautiful windows on a bright morning, the first chapel service of the year, crisp white choir robes, fading sunburn faces, the feeling of unity with God and each other while saying the Lord's Prayer. None of us will ever forget seeing our first Christian Pageant, the hush that fell over the transformed chapel, and the final burst of joy heralded by the shining of the star and the first strains of "O Come All Ye Faithful" from the organ.

Our days at Packer have been composed of hard work sprinkled generously with good times, and, somehow, when we think back over the last four years, we don't remember the countless nights we stayed up late studying for tests or finishing themes. We recall times like the day Miss Buvington expressed her sorrow at seeing hair ribbons go out of style and the parade of beribboned girls marching to class the next day.

Many of our memories are notable "firsts." The saying goes that first impressions always last longest, and in our case I think that's true. We all have fond recollections of our First Ac. tea at Mrs. Shafer's, accompanied by rain, of course. It has taken us the following three years to become completely at ease—and to solve Dr. Shafer's puzzles! Can we ever forget the First Ac. formal? We were all ready for a night of dancing to the melodious strains of a wonderful orchestra—did I say orchestra? It just forgot to come. Another of our rather uncomfortable moments took place during the Interclass Meet when practically everyone forgot the dance. We stood in our circles, laughing and trying futilely to pick up where we had become so hopelessly lost.

Operettas, Pinafore when we became sailors for a night, The Mikado, with its pig-tails, Iolanthe, and the dainty fairies. Dancing on the Green, the gaily colored cotton dresses making fascinating patterns on the emerald grass. Hockey games in the freezing wilds of Prospect Park, the thrill of winning, and the disappointment of losing the cup by one game to last year's Fourths. Class Day when it threatens to, but never does rain, and again the garden is beautified, this time by daisy chains, ribbons, and girls in ethereal white. The day we all rushed into chapel late (including Mrs. Clingan) and provided amusement for the faculty by trying to squeeze through the door six at a time. Afternoons at the Metropolitan, when we enjoyed both operas and intermissions in Sherry's famous lounge. Open House plays for which we provided a comedian and a good part of the casts. Oh we could fill a book with our reminiscences! Just to prove the proficiency of our respective memories, here are some more notable moments that would be included in our book. Those three wonderful days at the 49'ers Fair, when we spent our allowances having our palms read, but all for a good cause that will probably benefit our children, the Founder's Day Pageant that united one hundred years of Packer's history so well. We all remember chapel speakers, but the one who left a most lasting impression was Columbia's Professor Dunning who demonstrated the effects of atomic energy with a series of bells that succeeded in scaring us out of our wits. Remember reserving ethics books, days when the B. M. T. ceased functioning and half the class arrived late, the Health Class which Mrs. Sproul forgot to attend (a matter of little importance, since she was merely our teacher), the day in November when we were anxiously awaiting our class keys, and jovial Mr. Fries presented us with a box containing one door key, arriving at classes late because of the difference in clocks in practically every room, student-faculty games when we were victorious in basketball but bowed in defeat on the baseball diamond? Of course you do. All these and the countless thousands of little personal memories that have a special significance to each one of us have firmly planted Packer in our minds and hearts.

The most important year in every high school student's career is usually her senior year. Our last and busiest year at Packer has been especially wonderful because Mrs. Clingan has helped make it so. We shall always be thankful for her good advice, understanding, and friendship.

The A. A. Dinner is symbolic of the end of another year at Packer. It is a gay affair, and the evening always starts out on a lively note with many songs. None of us will ever forget Miss Wright's inimitable rendition of "Bill." As the evening goes on the cups on the table keep mounting, and our tension and sentimentality mount with them! By the time the President of the A. A. makes her welcoming speech to the incoming officers and we start to sing "Auld Lang Syne," our handkerchiefs are in need of a good wringing. To many of us who will not be back next year and to those who remain, this dinner marks the end of four of the best years we have ever spent or ever will spend. It combines the spirit and tradition that have attached us to Packer as firmly as the ivy that clings to her walls.

THE SOCIETY PAGE

HELLO! This is your Society reporter, Bourne Worden, bringing you the latest news. Last night, in the gigantic Apollo theater, probably the greatest gathering of people in different fields of work and life was held.

The occasion was the premier of the motion picture World. This movie is an attempt to bring together all races, creeds, and religions, with their lives and work. In the movie are three old friends of mine, Kerrin Ross, the great dramatic actress, Dr. Elinor Galdston, famous psychiatrist, and Linda Littman, noted author and commentator. All do a fine job. The film was directed by Anne Wilson, who has directed such hits as Del Ramo and Pale Horse, Pale Rider.

In the audience were several famous personages. The designer for Miss Ross's clothes, Janet Poling, was there. Barbara Betts, famous New York socialite, was also there with her fiancé. Stephanie Magee and Irene Smith, two of the world's most famous concert pianists, sat next to Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. is the former Nancy Voordin. Miss Barbara Greene, the owner of the famous cat farms, was also present.

The Apollo Theater was designed by Beth Winberry and decorated by Dianne Meeker, who were both present.

Three of the world's most famous scientists were there: Phoebe and Priscilla Royce, who have made great accomplishments in Naval Research, and Dr. Jean Warren, who has done so much for the deaf and blind.

Elaine Di Maria and Ethel Skoldberg, the two best dressed women in the world, were present.

Mary Frances MacGregor, famous author of Snowflake House, was present with her husband and two sons.

Two famous Florida millionaires came, accompanied by their wives, the former Nancy Koepel and Lola Yuder.

The President was sitting in a special box with his secretary, Penny Groll.

Jill Richardson, famous movie actress, sat in front of me.

Along with me were two other reporters, Margot Moore of The Journal U. S. A. and Joan Guariglia of the American Times.

STUDENT COUNCIL

THE Student Government Association is the heart of Packer. Every student in the high school and college is a member. It is the invisible force in all the activities in Packer: in the clubs, the plays, the dances, the drives, athletics, the PCI and The Pelican, in class rooms, and in chapel, because it is the students who participate in all these activities who are the Student Government Association.

The Student Council is the board elected by the students to represent them at meetings. The Council is in charge of the drives during the school year of which there are usually at least four: Thanksgiving, Christmas, Red Cross and Milk Fund. The 1949 Thanksgiving drive gave over 25 baskets of food to poor families in Brooklyn; for the Christmas Fund $447.82 was collected. This amount was divided among seven different organizations: Brooklyn Tuberculosis and Health Association, School Settlement Association, Visiting Nurse Association, South Brooklyn Neighborhood Houses, Y. W. C. A., The March of Dimes, and Brooklyn Bureau of Social Service. The Red Cross and Milk Fund drives come in the spring. Besides being in charge of drives The Council takes care of latenesses, any student problems which arise, and administers the Honor Code. It sees that school rules and regulations are followed and, more important, upholds the integrity and honesty for which Packer stands.

THE HONOR BOARD

HONOR means the acceptance by the individual of standards of truthfulness and integrity as the basis for work and action. The purpose of the Honor System is to encourage in the student body the highest sense of honor that may be attained.

The Honor System was created in the spring of 1948 by members of the Junior College and IV Academic class and went into effect in the fall of 1948. All the members of the Student Government Association in the Junior College are governed by the Honor System. They elect their representatives to the Honor Board, which was created to implement the regulations of the Honor System and to uphold the standards of honor and integrity which are essential for a good school and a good society, or a good individual.

SENIOR MUSIC CLUB

THE Music Club is one of Packer's most popular organizations. Its large membership of girls from the Academic School and Junior College meets on the first Tuesday of every month to hear a musical program and eat delicious refreshments. Our programs, which are designed to bring out any hidden talent a member may have, are varied and interesting. Our first meeting, held with the Workshop, presented a Gay Nineties revue. At our Christmas meeting, we all sang carols around the piano. An interesting speaker told us of the relationship between music and mathematics at another meeting held with the Mathematics Club. In May, we elected new officers and had an old fashioned ice-cream party. Now, at the close of a most successful year, we want to thank all of our seventy members, who, by volunteering to entertain or to bring in refreshments, have helped to make this one of the best years in Music Club history.

THE Choir is one of the most active groups in Packer. It consists of twenty-nine regular members and about fifteen substitutes from the Academic School.

The Choir is under the direction of Miss Wright, who is assisted by the choir mistress, Lois Marzullo, and assistant choir mistress, Betty-Lou Norris. The girls meet in the chapel for rehearsal every morning at nine-fifteen.

A special anthem is sung each Monday morning, following the processional hymn. Among those sung this year were, "Listen to the Lambs," sung on Founder's Day, "Father Most Merciful," and "By the Waters of Babylon." There is special music for All Saints' Day, the Christmas Pageant, and the Baccalaureate Service. At Christmas time the Choir sang carols at the Young Men's Christian Association.

THE complexities of the world situation today make it necessary for students, especially, to be fully informed about current affairs in order to be prepared for their future positions of responsible citizens and voters. The purpose of the Forum is to acquaint Packer's students, through class discussion groups, all-school Forums, and current events speeches, with important developments in present history.

A discussion of World Government, at the all-school Forum in September, launched the Forum's activities for the year. A panel of four speakers presented their opinions on world federation, and the audience participated in a question and answer period. Forum discussions throughout the year have been concerned with such diverse topics as: Radio Advertising, Sororities, Socialized Medicine, Co-ed and Women's Colleges, Independent or Party Voting?, Federal Aid to Education, Religion in the Schools, Opportunities in Public Service, Pros and Cons of Socialism, Mercy Killing, and other stimulating questions.

Current events speeches, presented once a month in chapel, are condensed accounts of important news developments. They provide an opportunity for Packer's students to receive a capsule account of the month's news in five minutes.

As an educational institution it is Packer's responsibility to prepare its students for future civic participation and leadership. Information, via the Forum, plays a large part in achieving this goal.

COLLEGE FRENCH CLUB

THE French Club of 1949-1950 has dined at French restaurants, attended theater performances, and seen French films.

In January the members attended an evening performance of Les Ballets de Paris, after dining at an authentic French restaurant.

The French Club members have seen some of the newest films, just arrived from France, not only for the enjoyment in seeing them, but also for practice in comprehension and for the perfection of accents.

Many of the members of the French Club are interested in obtaining addresses of their sisters across the sea, not only to make new friends, but also to learn about the French people and give them an idea of what American girls are like.

One does not have to be a French student to join the group. The club's projects are always open to visitors who wish to see something new—or old—from France.

The president of the club is Gini Kumm and Mrs. Lash is the adviser.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

THE Mathematics Club holds four or five meetings during the school year. These meetings are informal and are followed by refreshments. There have been quiz programs, exhibitions of card tricks, reports on the history of mathematics, moving pictures, and demonstrations of novel methods of computation. This year we are expecting to have an interesting speaker on the relationship between music and mathematics.

The officers of the club are Bette Gordon, president; Evans Flickinger, treasurer; Suzanne Rosen, Hostess.

THE LITTLE THEATRE

THIS year the Little Theatre has been very active. A play was given by each class with the officers of the Little Theatre acting as directors. Several original skits were presented. The Little Theatre also held a contest for the best original play written by a student in the Academic or Collegiate School. A prize was awarded to the winner of the contest, and her play was presented by the members of the organization. Meetings were made even more enjoyable by the refreshments which the members furnished. Those not acting in the plays donated their time to scenery, properties and costumes.

The officers of the club are: Betty-Lou Norris, President; Louise Dieckmann, Vice-President; Kate Trynin, Treasurer; Valerie Bohm, Secretary.

THE WORKSHOP

THE Workshop started off this year with a terrific show; combining talents with the Senior Music Club, it went back a few years to present a Gay Nineties Review. This show included singing and dancing by the Bathing Beauties and the Flora Dora Sextette, a few solo numbers, and a tap dancing routine. It also included a barber shop trio, a ride on the bicycle built for two, and a visit to the ball game. The short skit "Way Down West" was hilariously received, and the show came to an end with a sensational dance by four lovely Can Can girls. Of course we can't forget the delicious refreshments which followed the show.

In March, the members of the Workshop arranged an original skit about a day at Packer, characterizing students and teachers. This was presented to the high school and college students and the faculty.

The officers of the club are: Thelma Aschenbach, President; Marjorie King, Vice-President; Ann Besthoff, Treasurer; Lois Johnson, Secretary.

OUT-OF-TOWNERS

THE Out-of-Towners' Club is composed of students who have been living in areas outside of Brooklyn. The purpose of the club is to see as much as possible of the cosmopolitan New York City: its museums, theatres, and various national restaurants. The members are from such far away places as Japan, Iran, Hawaii, India, and Greece. At the traditional tea held at the end of the year these girls entertained the club with songs and dances of their countries. One of the outstanding events of the year was the Radio City party and Japanese supper at Miyakos. Here the girls learned how to eat in Japanese style with chopsticks.

The officers of the club are Laulupe Coley, President; Itsuko Sasaki, Vice-President; Joyce Willis, Secretary; and Elizabeth Turner, Treasurer. Mrs. Lash is the adviser.

CORNERSTONE OF PROGRESS

The growth of any community begins with sound, co-operative and adequate banking facilities. On that premise the cornerstone of Brooklyn's progress was laid in the late Nineteenth Century. Kings County Trust Company was established then, in 1889, and along with other Brooklyn banks springing up in those years has been a vital spark, financially, in building this great borough, the largest of New York's five component parts. Our helpful advice and our complete banking service are available to you.

REFLECTIONS

- of you and your classmates upon your school life achieve immortality in a carefully planned and executed yearbook.

- From the arid desert of Arizona, and the sultry green island of Puerto Rico, to the snow-blanketed slopes of Northern New England, we have traveled, happy and proud to have been an instrument in the translating into print, the humor pathos, excitement, and sentiment found in the campus life of over seventy-five colleges and preparatory schools.

- As former members of yearbook staffs in our school days, we bring into our professional duties a real understanding of the many problems confronting each yearbook editor.
